

SUNANA is a London-based DJ/producer duo composed of Sun Philips and Ana Her, supported by world-class DJs including David Guetta, KSHMR, Don Diablo, Kryder, Lost Frequencies and Leandro Da Silva.

An explosive mix of endless energy, positive vibes and top quality music, Ana and Sun hail from two very different musical backgrounds. Ana studied classical music at the Royal Academy of Music and Sun was a rapper and ragga man in the French urban scene. The pair united through their mutual love for House and Latin music a number of years ago and have never looked back.

The duo have an impressive 25 years combined experience, performing in hundreds of venues across the world including Ministry of Sound, Pacha, Glastonbury Festival, the Barbican and Wembley Arena.

The pair have held residencies at countless top London venues including London Cabaret Club, Quaglinos, Ballie Ballerson and The May Fair Hotel.

SUNANA are also successful producers and have released original tracks on various labels including Sony Music, Black Lizard, Groover Records, Alveda Music, Under Town, Automation Nation, Winlike, Sarape Records and Soundrepublic. Many of their releases have reached top 10 in the Beatport charts.

The public voted them in the top 10 for DJ/Producer of the year at The Alveda Awards 2020.

The pair are known for their impeccable music taste and unrivalled feel-good energy and have also produced more than 1000 remixes between them. They release The Six Pack, their original pack of mashups, every month and the pack frequently reaches the top 20 Hypeddit chart.

During the 2020 lockdown, SUNANA performed various live DJ streams across Facebook and Instagram, with a total audience of more than a third of a million.

You can listen to their weekly Latin House show on Select Radio, London & the UK's number 1 dance music station, every Wednesday 10-12pm.
